

Jan 1, 1352

It is leap yr

$$(6664 - 600)(365.25) = 2214876$$

(It is a faster yr less than 1582)

Which is true

Also

$$(4712 + 1352)(365.25) = 2214876$$

1352

Library of St. Mark's in Venice is founded by gifts from PETRARCH.

C1352

Feist Stissbourg
cathedral clock.

1352-1362

[Avignon]

200th Pope Innocent VI
France. Heresy of Wycliffe, in England, who had been disappointed in regard to an ecclesiastical office and vented his discontent by teaching rebellion against papal authority.

1352-1574

The great astronomical clock of STRASBOURG, was one of the Seven Wonders of Germany.

As rebuilt in 1574, it embodied a perpetual calendar showing movable feasts; a Copernician planetarium showing the revolutions of the visible planets, PRECESSION OF THE EQUINOXES; solar and lunar equations for conversion of sun & moon indications to local times; phases of the moon, eclipses, apparent & sidereal times.

The inner dial showed dominical letters and saint's days. The quarters are struck in Latin by the figures of Infancy, Adolescence, Manhood, and old Age.
At noon the 12 apostles are blessed by Christ. An oval cock flaps & crows.
It took a 19th century about 4 yrs to rebuild.

1352

Innocent VI Pope.

1352-1574

The great astronomical clock of Strasbourg, was one of Seven Wonders of Germany,

As rebuilt in 1574, it embodies a perpetual calendar showing movable feasts;
a Copernician planetarium showing the revolution of the visible planets, phases of the moon, eclipses, apparent and sideral progression of the equinoxes

solar and lunar equations for the conversion of sun and moon indications to local times. The inner dial shows dominical letters & saints days. The quarters are struck in turn by the figures of Infancy, Adolescence, Manhood and Old Age. At noon the twelve Apostles in procession are blessed by Christ. An iron cock flaps and crows. Chariots emerge in turn among the clouds, bearing pagan deities who represent the days of the week.